

Hospital Lights Up the Holidays

Lincoln Hospital's First tree lighting ceremony took place in front of the hospital at the corner of 149th Street and Morris Avenue. Many braved the cold weather outside with the tree and colleagues. Another group of youngsters were entertained by Banana Kelly, a Bronx housing complex that provided the entertainment for the youngest (apx 30 children). And a choir of volunteers from the Hospital serenaded guests. Hot chocolate and cookies were plentiful. There were gifts for every child, and fun for every employee and visitor.
